

This week, we discussed intelligence with our students during the class. We tried to make the definition of intelligence. We classified it, namely practical and analytical. We questioned our intelligence. We also discovered our skills, the way we comprehend things. We were beware of the difference between IQ and EQ. At last, we read an essay to consolidate the topic. Presently, you will read about the impacts of the class on our Erasmus students.

Esra BADAN